Effortless online protection

Get answers to our most frequently asked questions

Why is having MetLife + Aura Identity and Fraud Protection so important?

You do so much online, from banking to shopping, which makes your personal information more vulnerable to identity and financial fraud. Enjoy the confidence that comes with knowing that you've taken a big step in protecting yourself from online threats, identity theft and fraud.

What are some of the advantages of this protection?

Aura offers robust protection by monitoring your personal info, credit, finances and devices and alerting you of suspicious activity. It even takes proactive measures to help stop fraud before it happens. If you are a victim of fraud, an experienced Resolution Specialist will help you navigate credit bureaus, help initiate credit freezes or locks and work with you to resolve your fraud incident.

How are my finances and credit protected?

Aura monitors your credit, financial accounts, home and auto titles and more. You'll get alerted to credit inquiries, like if someone tries to open a new credit card or bank account in your name.

What kind of online and device security tools are available?

Every plan comes with intelligent safety tools, including VPN/Wi-Fi security, antivirus, password manager and more to protect your online privacy and data.

How is my identity protected?

It's protected through extensive monitoring of your Social Security number, driver's license, passport, ID and more. Plus, Aura requests the removal of your data from broker lists to help reduce spam like robocalls and robotexts.

What else do I get?

Every digital security plan comes with $5 million in identity theft insurance.⁵
